

Data Management for Ecology & Environmental Science

Overview

Ecological research produces heterogeneous data including field observations, sensor outputs, genomics, imagery, and spatial data. Effective data management ensures integrity, accessibility, and reusability across the project lifecycle.

Primary infrastructure:

- Hydra – institutional storage and computing
- Globus – data transfer and sharing

--

Data Organization & Naming

Recommended Directory Structure